To whom it may concern

I am deeply familiar with the books and taped discourses of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh and I must say that my respect for this exceptional man has been increasing the more acquainted I have become with the depth and the range of his scholarship and insight.

I rank him among the top psychologists of this century, -- with one important difference: while Freud, Jung, James, Perls remained most of the time within the domain of a specialized discipline, Rajneesh has the amazing capacity to include insights from other disciplines and traditions, thereby contributing uniquely and originally to Western culture at large.
