

July 22, 1983

To Whom It May Concern:

I am licensed clinical psychologist in private practice in Berkeley, California. I received my Ph.D. from U.S.C. in 1971 and have been in practice for the past ten years. During that time I have taught at numerous colleges, including U.S.C., conducted individual sessions, given lectures, published articles and presented numerous workshops in psychotherapy including a year of leading groups in Tokyo, Japan, both at Tokyo University and a private growth institute.

I became aware of the writings of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh in 1976 and since then Bhagwan has been a tremendous influence on my work. In both my group and individual sessions, I have quoted Bhagwan's discourses, recommended his books, and taught his meditation techniques. I find that introducing the works of Bhagwan greatly facilitates the therapy process. His dynamic meditations, for example, which I often suggest to clients and group participants is very effective in providing a space in which individuals can express themselves in a controlled, safe environment, thus enhancing their progress in therapy.

Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh is obviously an internationally famous figure of exceptional ability. He has a following of over 300,000 disciples, he has published hundreds of books, delivered thousands of discourses and influenced the lives of a great number of people. I sincerely support him to stay in America and continue his work. I feel we will all be greatly benefitted by his presence here.

Sincerely,

Darena Bailey, Ph.D.
Clinical Psychologist