To whom it may concern -

I consider

Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh to be a man of exceptional ability, whose religious writings are inspirational to all who read and study them.

His influence on my son has been profound. Since becoming a part of the movement, he has again resumed his former life of social gregariousness. His whole outlook is of optimism and joy and his energies have been recharged magnificently, and in the direction of productivity, & the welfare of the community.

Any country that can welcome the Bhagwan will be assured of the merit of his influence on the young particularly.

Yours sincerely,
J. J. Elliott.
