TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

My profession is that of a physiotherapist and since I got my degree I have worked 2 years as such. During these years I have been studying several specialized methods within the field of physiotherapy to be able to deal better with the complicated physical conditions of the people who came to me (a.o. haptonomie and maneral therapy).

Since I came into contact with Bhagwan, however, his approach has helped me to understand better the complex mechanisms in the body that can produce the ailments I have to deal with in my profession. I, and my way of treatment, have vere much benefited by His teaching. It is my experience that quite a number of doctors, physiotherapists and masseurs have been influenced by Bhagwan's advanced holistic approach, and I believe that this influence will continue to gather momentum in the years to come.
