To whom it may concern

I'm a disciple of B h a g w a n S h r e e R a j n e e s h for over three years now and I want to point out to you the positive influence of his teachings on my active life in society and in my work.

I am a sociologist with a full university degree, working for 5 years in different areas: adult education, third world countries, disabled people etc. Presently I hold a position as social researcher in the Institut of Sociology, University of Kiel, West-Germany.

I am researching the problems concerning the integration of turkish foreign workers and their families into german society, the religious, political and educational aspects of their lifestyle and intercultural comparison are the main concerns.

I am especially grateful to B h a g w a n S h r e e R a j n e e s h that he is enriching my scientific work in every possible way by his presence on earth and his vast teachings on all scientific, cultural and religious traditions on earth.

As the field of sociology of religion is presently very neglected in the scientific community of Germany, his insights give great opportunity for deep analysis. Even now, that he is communicating through silence, which is the ultimate state of religious expression, I feel encouraged by him to continue my work as a researcher, to help formulating some solutions to the economic, cultural and ecological problems humanity is facing.

Sincerely
