To Whom It May Concern:

Although I am a sannyasin of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, I have never lived at or visited his ashram in Poona, India. Now that he lives in Oregon, my visits to his American ashram are limited to one or two weeks per year. I am a supervising editor at CTB/McGraw-Hill in Monterey, California. My professional responsibilities preclude extended trips away from Monterey. Although a very small fraction of his sannyasins do live and work at his ashram, it is not necessary to be near him physically. The connection to him is a connection of the heart, and transcends time and space. Because of his love and guidance, I can live my own life in a loving and responsible way. The vast majority of his sannyasins serve him by being loving and creative members of their own communities, as is his wish.

Sincerely,

Bethiah C. Adams
