To whom it may concern.

I have been a life-long student of psychology. In 1975 I attained a B.S. in psychology and proceeded to open a bookstore in Princeton, N.J., which catered to people who were also students of psychology, astrology, and all aspects of religion. It was called The Astrology Shop. In this shop we frequently held seminars on Eastern religion, Christianity, Judaism, and the Kabala. I applied my understanding of psychology to a deeper study of astrology.

In 1977 I heard about a master psychologist named Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, and I acquired some of his books to study, discuss, and sell at my Bookshop. Upon reading these books - transcripts of taped discourses on Zen, given in Poona, India, I was amazed at the insight of this man. His understanding seemed to far surpass anyone else I had read on the subject of human psychology.

He is obviously a person of exceptional ability and genius in the field of psychology and religion. No one has spoken with as much wisdom and as much contact with those mysterious forces we call God, as Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh.

At this time he is a world-renowned Religious-Spiritual leader of tremendous import to thousands of people. Thousands of people across the world look to him for vision and hope that this world can be a beautiful, peaceful and harmonious whole again.

Not only would this country be tremendously enriched by allowing him to live here, its really the only country where the socio-economic and educational levels are sophisticated enough to really benefit by his genius and vision.

His message is creative, positive and significant to those who are seeking a meaningful life.

Yours truly,

Toby S. Lipman
