To Whom it may Concern:

Being Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh's disciple for only 18 months I still can say He transformed me and my attitude towards life totally.

Disappointed of what our modern society offers as goals of life, I had spent my time seeking to understand our world, unable to compete or even participate in its normal life.

Books of Bhagwan set my heart on fire. His clarity of analysis of mankind and His answers to our blind struggle for truth and direction helped my heart to trust and start experiencing what He offered. Rajneesh Meditation and Inner Growth Therapy Groups gave me joy of life, being creative in my work, and understanding and oneness towards others.

When I visited Rajneeshpuram in 1982 and more now for the Second Annual World Celebration, I experienced that His presence intensifies our awareness towards each other and the world around us like the wind blows away dust and fog. Everybody visiting this place is able to see and feel the overwhelming love He pours out on us and in turn is manifested by the people who have gathered around Him creating a living space where people are able to live in joy and peace with each other. His daily presence and our silent communion with Him creates in us a deep love and a joy of helping His vision of the New Man come true.

We would like Him to stay here and let the United States become the home for another extraordinary man of our time like many people of great vision have been welcomed here in the past.
