To whom it may concern,

I am a psycho-therapist with 25 years of practise. I studied at the University in Amsterdam and Utrecht and received my B.S. diploma in Amsterdam. (I specialized in humanities). My work has particularly been directed in helping the underprivileged in Holland and I had many international contacts. Among others I was President of the Board of International Affairs of the Y.W.C.A. (Young Women Christian Association). As President I devoted much of my time in starting and supporting Women's movements in underdeveloped countries. I also started a center for women's liberation in my own town of Arnhem, in the South of Holland.

In 1976 I came in contact with Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh by reading one of his books "My Way, The Way of the White Clouds". This had a profound impression on me. He confirmed my deepest intuitions on human affairs. From the beginning Bhagwan revealed himself to me as being not only a religious leader, but also a scientist.

I visited Bhagwan in 1978 and went back to stay at the ashram in Poona in 1979. Now I have the fortunate opportunity to visit him at Rajneeshpuram. Always I am immensely impressed by His great wisdom and vision, but most of all His unconditional love. The fact that he does not speak any more makes no difference what so ever for me. The contact with him is now even a deeper and warmer quality and for me it is as if his healing energy is all around me.

My vision of life has completely changed since I met him. I came to understand why humanity as a whole is facing all the troubles it is at the moment. And also why we all have so much troubles in relating with each other.

In my function as leader of a family agency I am able to use the new insights on relationship of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh with great success. It seems that people suddenly open up and come to their original creative selves.

I consider him as the only human being on earth who is able to bring our good planet Earth to a better future and to change the way that countries and religions relate to each other.
