To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Jeanne Cunningham. I am presently a full-time researcher, mother of a wonderful boy, and financial advisor for my husband's corporation and our personal accounts. I have an M.A. in Communication and have previously taught in Early Childhood Education for eight years. I am writing this letter to give my support to Bagwan Rajneesh as a valued resident in the United States.

I have come to know of Rajneesh over the past five years through books, educational references, and my own research in personal growth. Bagwan, recognized and studied internationally, is outstanding in my professional perspective because of his eclectic ability to integrate spiritual teachings, and psychological concepts and methods to a modern approach to living. This process approach is infinitely valuable to world growth particularly during such a challenging diversity of events, philosophies and living conditions. In turn such an individual will contribute greatly to this country's "melting pot" of talent.

Sincerely
Jeanne C. Cunningham
