To whom it may concern,

I am a disciple of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, living in a commune of around sixty people, all Sanyassins (disciples). I cannot imagine any other way of life except that which I am living right now. I have a feeling of belonging to the whole, the community, the universe - and feeling close to fellow human beings. This feeling is coming out of my love for my Master Bhagwan, which we all share and the love that we share with each other as a large family.

The way I express my love is in the work that I do for him, inside the commune and outside it is not work in the usual sense of the word and we prefer to call it worship, as it is coming out of my feeling. In my worship, expression of love I come across various new experiences of myself - of emotions or problems in relating to others, and these I look at, and try to become more aware of what is happening inside myself as well as outside. This is a form of inner growth, helped by the energy of others who surround me, and this I feel also a very important part of my worship, because in my growing self awareness comes a closeness to others and a spreading of softness and love.

It is a great joy (that is an understatement) to be in the presence of Bhagwan - although he is here around me everyday - it is stronger a thousand times when I am present in his energy field. To be close to him physically is so wonderful an experience, also of myself, that I love to go to the annual festivals in Rajresh Puram - in fact I cannot not go as it is such a strong pull, as I imagine it was for Buddha's disciples and also those of Christ. He is my Saviour and when he I feel to be - even for only 2 weeks in the year, I am very happy and grateful that these festivals are happening.

in His love
