

Dear Sir,

I am a disciple of the Indian Master Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh. I live in Italy and I work as a barman in a restaurant.

I was at the Samyasin festival which took place in Oregon at the beginning of July and I know that Bhagwan's stay in America is still in doubt.

I've been a disciple for three years and knowing Bhagwan has changed my whole life. Now, working in the service I feel much more at ease, and I am intimate with other people, and I find a new creativity in work.

Bhagwan has helped me to more caring towards myself, to take my responsibilities, to become a grown-up - I think that this Master can help the world a lot, especially in this moment, when mankind is facing a big crisis.
It would be a pity for man to miss this change of becoming more positive and in love with existence.

I hope you will take this into account when deciding about Bhagwan's visit.

Thank you

Yours sincerely

Swami Prem Kishi
