

To whom it may concern, coming back from Oregon, we've found ourselves in an absolutely new situation. Our Center (Annapurna RMC, Frankfurt) had to be closed and sold because of uneffectiveness. And we had to put all our energies into the FAR OUT RAJNEESH DISCO/BISTRO to cristallize a new focus of Sannyas-activities for ourselves.

Filled up with love and jokes and stories and the desire to jump on the new playground, we also felt a responsibility to clean the old 'football'-field to create a new Buddhafield more attractive for our newcomers and a clearly defined activity-space for the rest of the "old" family members.

Discussion about "What do you want to do right now?" requested more selfawareness, meditation and understanding then ever before. Any time we felt disconnected or distracted we did Gacchamis to come into contact with Bhagwan and the greater Buddhafield.

There is love available at any time, in any place, in any case and doing the Gacchamis is cleaning and refreshing of body, spirit and soul.

Problems dissolve and we can look into each others faces again.

Back to the day-to-day disco-life we experienced the new line as actors, more playful, able to take a risk and accepting responsibility as a part of religious activities.

This Buddhafield, we are a part of it; might be one of the smallest cells.

It is not only the smell, but the taste, the feeling of a greater vision.

The work and the fun, the tool and the toy - make us pray.

Yes, it is religious.

Thank you for your presence, Bhagwan.

Love,
